Sept 28-3m

PUBLIC SALE.

ON Friday, the 19th. October, we will sell to the highest bidder, on the premises, the one mile south of Ridgeway, on R. & G. R. R. in Warren county, the residence of the late Dr. H. L. Plummer.

PLANTATION,

The tract will be divided—one, including houses, contains 600 acres, well adapted to the growth of wheat, tobacco, corn &c., with an adequate quantity of wood land, original growth, and a larger proportion of highly improved lot land than any other farm in the county. Also, a fair proportion of bottom land on a creek, running entirely through the tract.

THE DWELLING

is a good two-story house, with 7 rooms; good cabins, with stone chimneys; excellent frame barns, good granary, stables, &c. Also, a good Orchard of Choice Winter Fruit.

The other tract, on the same road, contains 350 acres, 50 of which is good bottom land, on Fishing Creek, and sufficient wood for fences and fuel, but no house except a barn. Both tracts are in good condition. Dr. Plummer never made less than 17 bushels wheat per acre on these farms—frequently more.

The locality is as healthy and the neighborhood as refined as any in the State. It is in every respect desirable, and it is seldom such a place is offered at auction. One of the subscribers resides on the place, and will show it to any one wishing to see it. Possession will be given 1st. January, but the privilege of seeding wheat granted immediately.

We Will Also Sell

12 head fat Cattle, 20 head Sheep, 50 barrels old Corn, a good Wheat Thrasher, capable of getting out 300 bushels Wheat per day;

Two Wheat Reapers,

SOME EXCELLENT SEED WHEAT, AND OTHER ARTICLES.

TERMS—For land, one-fifth cash; the balance in equal payments of 1 and 2 years, bonds well secured, with interest from date—title held until land is paid for. Other property, cash. Sale to commence at 11 o'clock.

K. PLUMMER,
R. T. ARRINGTON, } Executors.

THE SENTINEL.

Monday Evening, Oct. 15, 1866.

[From the Nashville Gazette.]

The Sword of Robert Lee.

BY "MOINA."

Forth from its scabbard, pure and bright
Flashed the sword of Lee!
Far in the front of the deadly fight,
High o'er the brave, in the cause of right,
Its stainless sheen, like a beacon light,
Led us on to victory.

Out of its scabbard, where full long
It slumbered peacefully—
Roused from its rest by the battle-song,
Shielding the feeble, smiting the strong,
Guarding the right, avenging the wrong—
Gleamed the sword of Lee!

Forth from its scabbard, high in air
Beneath Virginia sky—
And they who saw it gleaming there,
And knew who bore it, knelt to swear
That where that sword led they would dare
To follow and to die.

Out of its scabbard!—Never hand
Waved sword from stain as free,
Nor purer sword led braver band
Nor braver bled for a brighter land,
Nor brighter land had a cause as grand,
Nor cause, a chief like Lee!

Forth from its scabbard! how we prayed
That sword might victor be!
And when our triumph was delayed,
And many a heart grew sore afraid,
We still hoped on, while gleamed the blade
Of noble Robert Lee!

Forth from its scabbard all in vain!
Forth flashed the sword of Lee!
'Tis shrouded now in its sheath again!
It sleeps the sleep of our noble slain,
Defeated, yet without a stain,
Proudly and peacefully.

*Father Abram Ryan, of Knoxville, author of the celebrated lines on the "Conquered Banner."

MILITARY TITLES IN THE UNITED STATES.—Artemus Ward gives to the London Punch the following report of a conversation between himself and his London landlord in reference to a lecturer whom Ward had seen claiming to be from the United States:

"Is the strange bein a American?"
"He is."
"A Gen'ral?"
"No."
"A Colonial?"
"No."
"A Majer?"
"Nor a Majer?"
"A Capting?"
"He is not."
"A Leftenant?"
"Not even that."

"Then," said the landlord of the Green Lion, "you are deceived! He is no countryman of yours."

"Why not?" I said.

"I will tell you sir," said the landlord. "My son-in-law is employed in a bankin house where ev'ry American as comes to these shores goes to git his drafts cashed, and he says that not one has arrived on these shores durin the last eighteen months as wasn't a gen'ral, a colonial, a majer, a capting, or a leftenant! This man, as I said afore, has deceived! He's a impostuer!"

I reeled into a chair. For a minit I was speechless. At length I murmerd, "Alars! I fear it is too troo! Even I was a Capting of the Home Gards."

"The Southern people, after following their political leaders into the late struggle, and sharing the risk of their fate through four years of terrible war, are called on to aid the proscription! Whatever punishment their leaders may deserve at the hands of the government, it is unintelligible that statesmen should have dreamed of asking their associates and followers to inflict that punishment upon them—especially a punishment of LASTING DISGRACE, more terrible than any which the government itself is authorized to impose. If, in the midst of their errors, the people of the South retain the ordinary fidelity of comrades in arms to each other—the common sentiment of honor which rules all companionship—they will not voluntarily desert the men whom they have voluntarily and steadily followed amid so many perils."—Address of the Cleveland Soldiers' Convention.

A saloon keeper in Connecticut has been convicted on a charge of refusing to allow a colored person to play billiards at his table.

The Memphis Avalanche publishes a very sensible letter from Gen. Forrest to A. A. Freeman, Esq. He speaks thus leniently of Brownlow: "As to the man, Brownlow, who accidentally holds the once-honored post of Governor of Tennessee, I think that the most charitable view we can take of his course is the one we ought to take, and that is, that he is demented—that he is plainly a madman, and as such is hardly to be held responsible for the outrages he daily and hourly commits upon common decency, law and order, and upon the principles and spirit of that holy religion of which he professes to be a minister."

Henry C. Lay, Missionary Bishop of Arkansas, has recovered a silver communion service stolen from Van Buren, Arkansas. A discharged soldier in New York had it. He gave it up for one hundred and eight dollars. The next time the men of moral ideas hold a prayer-meeting, let them not forget to thank God for the profit—one hundred and eight dollars—on this small transaction.

SIMPLE WAY TO COMPUTE INTEREST.—The following is a very simple method of computing interest on any number of dollars, at six per cent.: "Separate the right hand figure by a point, and the figures on the left of this separating point will be the interest in cents for six-days—the figures on the right of the point, the decimals of a cent. Multiply the whole amount by five, to find the interest for thirty days, and this sum by two for sixty days, three for ninety days, &c. For any number of days less than six, take the fractional part of the interest of six. Care must be taken to separate the right hand figures of the dollars, whether there be cents and mills in the amount or not."

A man in Nashville, Tenn., fearing that he would be attacked with cholera, took an entire bottle of Perry Davis' pain killer, and followed it with a large dose of laudanum. He didn't take the cholera, but the medicine did the business for him. He went to sleep and never woke again.

WHAT WILL NOT FASHION DO?—The demands of Fashion are inexorable, and the followers of the fickle Queen obey her behests with the utmost abjectness, no matter how ridiculous they may be. A Saratoga letter says: "The fashionable walk for young ladies this season is the most comical thing imaginable.—It is a sort of a hobble, as if they had a very sore toe on each foot. At first I thought the ladies were slightly lame, and expressed my regret that such elegant ladies should be so unfortunately afflicted; but it became soon apparent that it was only a fashionable lameness, for every lady who affected any style was afflicted with it severely. A few years ago it was the Jenny Lind hop that all the young and would-be young ladies were seized with and sprightliness was considered elegant; but now just the other extreme is the ton."

If we would have powerful minds, we must think; if we would have faithful hearts, we must love; if we would have muscles, we must labor; and these three—thought, love, and labor—include all that is valuable in life.

EXCHANGE OF N. C. BONDS FOR STOCKS.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
Raleigh, September 27th. 1866.

The Public are reminded that, in pursuance of an Ordinance of the late Convention, sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, until 12 M., on the first day of November next, for the exchange of the principal of bonds issued by the State before the 20th. May 1861, for the Stocks held by the State in the various Rail Roads and other Companies, of which the following are the principal:

North Carolina R. R. Co.	$3,000,000,
Raleigh & Gaston R. R. Co.	682,500,
Atlantic & N. C. R. R.	$1,066,000,
Western N. C. R. R. Co.	$1,418,000,
Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Co.	$ 350,000,

No bid less than par will be entertained. Any premiums offered may be applied to payment of the Interest due on the bonds offered in exchange. Bids will be opened in the presence of the Governor and Comptroller, and those will be accepted most advantageous to the State.

Purchasers of preferred stock will not obtain rights greater than holders of stocks not preferred.

In consequence of the bonds and liens, held by the State on various Rail Road Companies, having been in part executed during the late war, I have concluded not to offer them for exchange until the reception of special instructions from the General Assembly.

I have deferred the time of opening bids in order that parties interested might have opportunity of examining the reports of the various Companies for the present year, which no doubt can be obtained from the proper officers of the Companies.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or Biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

THE SENTINEL.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS.
NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JONATHAN WORTH,
OF RANDOLPH.

Election Thursday, October 18th.

A Last Word.

The time intervening before the election in this State is now so short that nothing that we might say could be of any avail, even if it could reach our more distant readers. We are not aware that we can add anything to what we have heretofore urged upon our people.—We trust that the issues (or, rather, the issue,) are so well defined that every man's mind is distinctly made up, and every man's resolution taken. But we beg to impress upon such of our people, as our voice may reach in season, the great importance of voting. We regret exceedingly to observe the wide spread indifference that is manifested in this matter, growing, mainly, out of a conviction of the hopelessness of our condition, and out of the impression that anything we may say or do will be impotent to check or arrest the course of Radical fury.—However this may be, we owe a duty to ourselves which it would be criminal to omit or neglect. No amount of danger, real or menaced, can excuse a people from the manly assertion of their rights and self-respect or the emphatic discharge of an imperative obligation.

We owe it to our present worthy and excellent Governor to endorse his patriotic and conservative administration of our State affairs by a large and as nearly unanimous a vote as possible. There is danger in absenting ourselves from the polls, on the ground that it is useless to attend when there is no opposition. There is opposition. We venture the opinion that every Radical sympathizer, every advocate of the Howard amendment, in the State, will attend the election and will vote for Gen. Dockery, though he be no candidate. The little squad which met at the Standard office, in this City, through their understrappers and associates in various parts of the State, have been busily at work in a covert way, and you frequently hear from some one of them the mysterious and oracular intimation that "Gen. Dockery will get a larger vote than you expect." If Gov. Worth's majority is not overwhelming,—as it must be, fellow-citizens, if you will only turn out and vote,—they will claim that North Carolina is not unequivocally committed against the Howard amendment, and they will endeavor to bring that inference to bear, with all possible weight, upon the Legislature which is to assemble next month. Leave them no such ground upon which to operate. By your verdict, put it out of their power to attempt fresh schemes for our humiliation and ruin!

Again, Gov. Worth, in view of his position, is the representative man of President Johnson's policy in North Carolina. We owe it to him, to the country and to ourselves, to stand by President Johnson, to strengthen his hands. The waves of Radicalism threaten to engulph him, solely because he has been true to the Constitution and just and magnanimous to the South. It would be an act of treachery and ingratitude, almost without parallel in the annals of history, to desert him, or refuse, in the most expressive manner, to endorse him, at this critical and trying hour of his administration. We should remember, too, that he has declared his determination to abide by and yield to the decision of a majority of the people,—not a mere sectional majority, but a majority of all the people of all the States of the Union. If the South stand not as an unit on the great issue,—the Howard amendment,—the popular majority will be for it, and we can no longer expect the President to stand out against it. So long as we are true to ourselves and to him, he will continue to be a breakwater against the tide of Jacobin malignity and oppression.

Ignore side issues,—support no man whose position is not beyond suspicion on the paramount national question,—VOTE, VOTE, and encourage and urge your neighbors to do the same; and when we have all contributed to place our good old State squarely and unmistakably on record, we can fold our arms and calmly await what the future has in store for us. Let us preserve our manhood untarnished. And then, whatever evils befall us or the common country, we can lay clean hands on honest hearts and exclaim, "Thou can'st not say" we "did it!"

Manufactures.

The North has been made rich by its superior skill and enterprise and by its happy system of dividing the labor of its people. This, added to the indomitable energy of the Northern people, has been the chief source of its wealth. This has been accomplished by the labor of white men; colored society every where, when reduced to free labor, being greater consumers than producers.

The South must now profit by this example. Our colored population, under proper direction, can accomplish more for themselves and more for the country in agricultural pursuits than at any thing else. As laborers, as planters and farmers, they can become more truly independent as a class, than at any thing else. As mechanics, or domestic servants, some few of them may get along respectably, but it is only as tillers of the soil, that any large number of them can hope long even to obtain the necessaries of life. But industry, frugality and a determination to become superior laborers in agriculture, will make them comfortable and independent in a few years. This, therefore, is their proper vocation. Experience has proven that few of them can make skillful mechanics, or merchants, or manufacturers or miners.—These seem to be special vocations for the white race.

If we had the capital in the State, and we think it might be obtained in some way, we should strongly urge the immediate establishment of large factories of various kinds, especially in every town in the State with 2,500 inhabitants. In this City we ought to have two or three, and so it should be in Fayetteville, Wilmington, Newbern, Charlotte, and other places. We regard W. H. Willard, Esq., as a public benefactor, for his efforts in inaugurating a factory in this City for the manufacture of colored cotton goods, such as stripes, plaids, gingham, and possibly prints or calicoes at a future day. We learn that the lot has been purchased, and in a few days, the machinery will be procured to commence the work. The plan is to work the factory by steam. The spinning will be done elsewhere. No money will be expended for building houses and tenements for the employees, as they will be drawn from the city, and the location of the factory will be such as to enable the operatives to live at their own homes. Thus a number of females, who find it difficult to make a living, will be furnished with remunerative employment.—Would that we had two such factories, employing 500 employees each, in this City, Fayetteville, Wilmington, Newbern and Charlotte as an experiment.

The profit of such Factories to the stockholders is unquestionable. The statistics of the Georgia and Northern factories show this to be the most remunerative investment that can be made. Besides this, they furnish a comfortable support to large numbers of the indigent persons who find it difficult to make a living. Let us have the Factories a-going.

THE NATIONAL EXPRESS COMPANY.—We learn that Mr. John A. Brown, Superintendent of the Merchants Union Express Company, was here during the session of the meeting of the stockholders of the National Express Company and made two propositions to them. One was that his company would buy the National out and take their officers, roads and property and conduct the business. The other was that the companies should unite, and the Merchants Express Company should transact the business in the Northern States, whilst that of the Southern States should be done by the National. Neither proposition has been accepted, though both are under consideration. We give these rumors as we have heard them and do not vouch for their correctness. The stockholders will reassemble on the 19th proximo.—Richmond Examiner.

Be Consistent.

Hon. Thaddeus Stevens states in his speech at Lancester that "whoever in governed by the laws has a right to make them." That is all we ask. Let the South, then, have its proper voice in legislation. They pay customs; they are summoned on Federal juries; they are assessed and levied upon by Federal revenue agents. Taxation and representation are inseperable.—Nat. Intelligencer.

Thurlow Weed on Butler.

"The old man," as Mr. Weed is usually called by New York politicians, has written a very straightforward letter to the Times, declaring his reasons for supporting Hoffman for the Governorship of New York, although he is a Democrat. He divides Radical honors between Democrats and Republicans, and pays his respects to Butler with a little grim humor in the following sentence:

"Leading Republicans and Democrats are now rivaling each other in their extreme Radicalism. Gen. B. F. Butler, a Democrat, who supported Breckinridge for President, is now a full neck ahead of Mr. Sumner in the race for President in 1870. Though signally unfortunate in his conflicts with the enemy at Big Bethel and Fort Fisher, Gen'l Butler presses the South now vigorously and gallantly!"

A Woman Runs for Congress.

NEW YORK, October 11.—Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton presents herself in a card, published elsewhere, this morning to the voting population of the Eighteenth Congressional District as a candidate for representative in Congress.—She professes independent principles with a moral reservation in favor of the Republican party, provided it advocates negro suffrage, and asks support on the high ground of safety of the nation and justice to its citizens.

The men, who have had mutual hate knocked out and mutual respect knocked in by hard blows, are the men after all, to cement the Union, if that delicate operation can ever be done. We hope that we will be pardoned for a personal incident, in this connection. We had two particular friends in the U. S. army; the one born north of the Susquehanna, and the other South of it. Both adhered to the U. S. Government. The Northern man took the field and fought us obstinately: the Southern kept out of harm's away, but secured a good paying position, as a teacher. After the war, we wrote to the latter, which he refused to answer. The former, learning that we had fallen into the hands of the "Blessed Bureau" and other benevolent institutions, sent us a kind invitation to bring the wife and little rebs to spend the summer months with him. It is easy in this case to answer the question "which now of these two, thinkest thou, is neighbor unto him, which fell among thieves?"—Land We Love (Gen. D. H. Hill.)

It is said that there have been eight hundred applicants for admission to Washington College, Lexington, Va. None are rejected on account of not being able to pay the college fees. General Lee is willing to accept their notes, believing that young men who receive their education under such circumstances will not fail to respond to their obligations whenever they are able.

A Confederate officer was recently tried before one of the circuit courts of Tennessee on the absurd charge of treason against the State, for engaging in Confederate service. He was convicted by the sapient court and jury. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the State. The Attorney-General, with the consent of the court, disposed of the case at once by entering a nolle prosequi.

Mr. George Barton, just arrived at Galveston, from Cordova, Mexico, informs the News that Gen. Price was sick when he left, and that both Price and Shelby would be glad to get back if they could return safely.

Mr. L. F. Tasistro, for many years the chief translator in the State Department at Washington, has lately supervised a manuscript from the pen of the late Edgar A. Poe, which will be published.

Speech of General Wade Hampton on the Crisis, Delivered Before the "Soldiers' Association" at Walhalla, S. C., September 22, 1866.

Knowing the interest with which the people of our State regard the utterances of General Wade Hampton at this critical junction of public affairs, we lay before them this evening a full report of his speech delivered at Walhalla, Pickens District, on the 22d ultimo:

Fellow-Citizens and Brother Soldiers of Pickens:—In response to your kind invitation to join you to-day, I have come to participate in the grateful ceremonies of this occasion. It affords me great satisfaction, I assure you, to do so, because it is eminently fit and proper that every surviving soldier of the South should at all times and everywhere pay all possible respect to the memory of his dead comrades. Another reason which urged me strongly to be present to-day was that I might have the pleasure of seeing again so many of the men who fought so long and so well under my command.

* * * * *

You may perhaps, fellow citizens, think that any discussion of general politics is inappropriate on an occasion of this sort, but as I may not again have an opportunity to place myself right upon the record, or to correct the misrepresentations of both my antecedent and present position, disseminated by the Radical press, may I claim your indulgence for a brief discussion of these topics? It is full time that some voice from the South should be raised to declare that though conquered she is not humiliated—though she submits, she is not degraded; that she has not lost her self-respect; that she laid down her arms on honorable terms; that she has observed these terms with the most perfect faith; and that she has a right to demand a like observance of them on the part of the North. Would to God that some voice more potent than mine would utter these truths! Would to God that the tongues of those great statesmen of Carolina who in times past warned, counselled, directed our people were not hushed in death, or that those which more recently stirred the southern heart to its profoundest depths were not now as silent as death itself!

But, perhaps, in the midst of this silence so profound, even my voice, feeble as it is, may be not without that weight which always attaches to the utterance of truth, and in this hope I venture to discuss our condition and policy. What, then, is our condition? For four years the South was the victim of a cruel and unnecessary war—a war marked on the part of her opponents by a barbarity never surpassed, if equalled, in the annals of civilized warfare. The sword failed to conquer her, for on nearly every battle-field she was victorious, and her enemies were forced to resort to weapons more congenial to their nature—fire and famine. The torch was applied with an unsparing hand. The mansion of the rich; the cottage of the poor; peaceful villages; thriving cities; even the temples of the Most High God, fell before this ruthless destroyer; leaving to mark the spots where once they stood but ashes and blackened ruins.

All the industrial resources of the South were wantonly destroyed or stolen, and gaunt famine followed in the footsteps of the invaders. The men who had borne without a murmur every privation, who had faced death in a thousand shapes without flinching, were not proof against the cries which came to them from homeless and starving wives and children. They laid down their arms, which they had crowned with eternal lustre, and they accepted the terms offered to them by the North. What were these terms? Throughout the whole war the North declared in the most solemn and authoritative manner that she fought solely to re-establish the Union; to bring back to one fold all the States, and to give to all equal rights and equal liberty. This was the constant declaration of Mr. Lincoln. Mr. Seward not only announced the same principle, but he declared that whatever might be the result of the war, not only would all the rights of the Southern States be preserved, but that all their institutions would be intact. The Congress of the United States, in a resolution passed I think unanimously and never repealed, announced the object, and the sole object, of the war to be the restoration of the Union under the supremacy of the Constitution. The very powers under which we laid down our arms promised the protection of the government and gave the assurance that we should not be interfered with so long as we obeyed the laws of the States wherein we resided. These declarations were made not only to the South, but to foreign nations; and the South was assured that she had but to acknowledge the supremacy of the National Government to be received into the Union as equal members of the great family of States, with all her rights and all her privileges unimpaired.

These were the terms upon which the South capitulated. On her part she was to cease war, to renew her allegiance to the National Government, and to express her loyalty to the Constitution of the United States. On the part of the North there was to be amnesty for the past,—a recognition of the Southern States as equal members of the Union,—and a solemn pledge that all their rights should be held sacred. This was the construction placed by the South upon the covenant entered into, and it is the only fair and honest construction it will admit of. How have the parties to this covenant fulfilled their obligations? I have said that the South performed her's with the most perfect faith. Let me prove the assertion. She was to cease war. When our commanding officers signed the conventions which put a stop to the war, every soldier of the Confederacy, from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, laid down his arms and returned to his home or to the spot where his home had been.

The next condition of the terms required from the South a renewal of her allegiance to the general government. In every Southern State the people, by their conventions, their legislatures, and individually, conformed promptly to this condition. Loyalty to the Constitution of the United States was exacted as the only other article of the terms required of the South. I assert that she has fulfilled this part of the compact, as well as the others, to the letter, and that in the true acceptation of the word she is loyal. What is "loyalty?" It is nothing more nor less than faithfulness,—obedience to the laws of that government under which you live. Have any people on earth manifested a higher faith, or been more obedient to the laws of the land than we have been since our allegiance to the government has been renewed? Many of these laws we regard as illegal and unconstitutional, but to not one of them has the shadow of resistance been made. We have yielded an implicit, if not a cheerful obedience to all, trusting that time would rectify the evils under which we labor. What higher proof of loyalty could be given than this?

But, fellow-citizens, was the South ever disloyal to the Constitution of the United States? I deny that she ever was, and I challenge her most bitter enemies to adduce one single instance in which she has ever been. From the adoption of that Constitution up to the time when she framed one for her own governance no one can lay to her charge a single violation of any clause of that instrument. Did she ever propose to change it? Did she ever evade any of its provisions? Did she ever denounce it as a "league with hell and a covenant with the devil?" Nay more; when she framed a Constitution for herself, did she not adopt the old and honored one almost word for word?—Had the North been but half as loyal as the South has ever been, no war would have desolated our country, and the Union would be, what its founders intended, one of equal and sovereign States, bound together by the strong ties of paternal affection, instead of what it now is, a consolidated despotism of the stronger States, ruling with a rod of iron the weaker ones. The South is, and ever has been, loyal in the proper sense of the word. * * * *

I repudiate as heretical and damnable that morality which inculcates a "higher law" than the Bible teaches. And as to religion, I confess that after the way they call heresy, so worship I the "God of my fathers." We obey the laws of the land; we pay the taxes levied on us; we support the Constitution; and we acknowledge the supremacy of the National government. The North has no right to demand or to expect of us more than this. She has no right to ask that we should give up the divine right—which even slaves enjoy—of freedom of opinion; that we should deny the principles we hold sacred; that we should abase ourselves in the dust to propitiate her good will, or that we should kiss the rod that smites us.

"Shall free-born men in humble awe
Submit to servile shame,
Who from consent and custom draw
The same right to be ruled by law
Which kings pretend to reign."

Shall we, who were free-born men, be so base as to declare that our country has met the fate it deserved? Shall we submit to the shame which would cling to us forever if we admit that we have been guilty of treason? Shall we cover ourselves with eternal infamy by branding as traitors the men who died for us, and to whose memory you are now paying honor?—Never! Never!! Never!!! Let any fate, however hard, be our lot rather than such dishonor be ours. When the gallant warrior-king of old saw in the defeat of his brave army the ruin of all his hopes, proud, though conquered, he could still exclaim, "All is lost save honor."—Let us, amid the failure of our hopes, the wreck of our fortunes, strive to save, like him, what is far more precious than all else, our honor.

I have given you the record of the South, I have shown how well she has kept her faith untarnished, how closely she has observed her obligations. Let me turn now to the record of the North. Bear in mind that in giving this I shall simply state facts, leaving you to draw your own inferences. I propose to say what the North has done. I do not intend to discuss the morality, the honesty, or the justice of her actions. When the tyrant disputed the assertions of the philosopher, and endeavored to draw him into an argument, the reply of the latter was: "I do not choose to argue with the commander of thirty legions." Without being a philosopher, I can recognize the force of this answer, and I waive argument as totally inappropriate in a discussion of this sort. Facts, which are said to be stubborn things, will be amply sufficient for my purposes at present.

For four years the North waged war upon us, only, as she solemnly declared, to bring us back into the Union. More than a year ago the South expressed her willingness to return, and yet she is now as effectually out of the Union as if she had never formed a part of it. The North professed to fight for the Constitution. As soon as she had the power to do so, she changed that Constitution, and she violated its sacred provisions. The North protested that she did not fight for conquest or for plunder. The Southern States are at this moment practically conquered provinces, and more of their moveable property is now in the hands of northern soldiers, who stole it, than in those of its rightful possessors. The parole which Southern Soldiers received promised, as I have already said, that they should not be interfered with so long as they obeyed the laws of their own States. And yet on their return to their States they were not allowed to exercise any right pertaining to free citizens until they had, under oath, endorsed all the acts of Congress, and declared the abolition of slavery fixed, irrevocable, and constitutional.

Amnesty for the past had been repeatedly promised to the South; yet how many of her citizens are still, in the brotherly language of the Radicals, only "unpardoned rebels," whilst her most honored and best beloved son languishes in a felon's cell, denied the sacred right guaranteed by the Constitution of a "speedy trial by an impartial jury." The Southern States were to be recognized as equal members of the Union. They are still excluded from that Union. And even in the imposition of taxes there is no equality; for the cotton of the South has to bear a heavy discriminating tax for the benefit of the North. All the rights of the South were to be held sacred. She has only the right to live and to labor; perhaps to complain, though to do so may be treason.

I have placed before you the record of the South and that of the North. Let the world decide which is entitled to honor, which to shame. I have drawn in dark colors, but alas! in too true ones, the condition of our country, and I now turn to the discussion of what should be our policy. In the anomalous condition in which we are placed, it is a matter of great difficulty to mark out the proper course for us to pursue; but there are certain cardinal principles of which we should never lose sight. The first of these is, that as we accepted the terms offered to us by the North in good faith, we are bound by every dictate of honor to abide by them fully and honestly. They are none the less binding on us because the dominant and unscrupulous party at the North refuse to accord to us our just rights. Let us, at least, prove ourselves worthy of the rights we claim. Let us set an example of good faith, and we can then appeal with double effect to the justice and magnanimity of the North.

These virtues, I would fain hope, are not totally extinct among the people, and there are brave men there who are battling for justice, for constitutional liberty, for the equality of all the States, and for the rights of the South.—The only hope, not alone for the South, but for freedom itself, on this continent, lies in the success of this party. We are their natural allies, and I would sacrifice much,—where honor and principle are not invaded, and then I would not yield one jot or tittle,—to strengthen their hands in the great contest, which is soon to decide the fate of constitutional liberty and republican institutions in the United States. The President of the United States has lent the great influence which his high position, his strong intellect, his firm purpose, and his indomitable will give to this new conservative party, and to his support every Southern man should rally cordially.

We may perhaps feel that he has not gone to the extent of his power or of our expectations in carrying out his policy to its legitimate ends, but we cannot forget that he has been the only bulwark to stand between our unhappy country and certain, irretrievable, and everlasting ruin. But for him the horrors we endured during the war would have been far surpassed by those of peace. And though differing with him in many points, I cheerfully accord to him the highest praise for the brave and patriotic stand he has taken in defence of the South and of the Constitution. There is one other point on which there should be no misunderstanding as to our position, no loop on which to hang a possible misconstruction as to our views, and that is the abolition of slavery. I have already intimated that the mode by which the North secured the acquiescence of the South in the consummation of this purpose was a breach of faith on her part.

Of all the inconsistencies of which the North has been guilty—and their name is legion—none is greater than that by which she forced the Southern States, while rigidly excluding them from the Union, to ratify the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery, which they could do legally only as States of that Union. But the deed has been done, and I for one do honestly declare that I never wish to see it revoked. Nor do I believe that the people of the South would now remand the negro to slavery if they had the power to do so unquestioned. Under our paternal care, from a mere handful he grew to be a mighty host. He came to us a heathen, we made him a Christian.—Idle, vicious, savage in his own country, in ours he became industrious, gentle, civilized. Let his history as a slave be compared hereafter with that which he will make for himself as a freeman, and by the result of that comparison we are willing to be judged. A great responsibility is lifted from our shoulders by this emancipation, and we willingly commit his destiny into his own hands, hoping that he may prove himself worthy of the new position in which he has been placed. As a slave, he was faithful to us; as a freeman, let us treat him as a friend. Deal with him frankly, justly, kindly, and my word for it he will reciprocate your kindness, clinging to his old home, his own country, and his former masters. If you wish to see him contented, industrious, useful, aid him in his effort to elevate himself in the scale of civilization, and thus fit him, not only to enjoy the blessing of freedom, but to appreciate its duties.

The essential points, then, in the policy we should pursue, are, it appears to me, these:—That we should fulfil all the obligations we have entered into, to the letter, keeping our faith so clear that no shadow of dishonor can fall on us; that we should sustain Mr. Johnson cordially in his policy, giving our support to that party which rallies around him; that we should yield full obedience to the laws of the land, reserving to ourselves at the same time the inalienable right of freedom of speech and of opinion; and that, as to the great question which so materially affected our interests, the abolition of slavery, we should declare it settled forever. Pursue this course steadily; bear with patience and dignity those evils which are pressing heavily on you; commit yourselves to the guidance of God, and whatever may be your fate, you will be able to face the future without self reproach.

Brother soldiers of Pickens, the grateful task your kindness imposed on me is finished. I wish that I could have discharged it in a manner more worthy of you, of the occasion, and of the men whose memory you are now honoring. But your kindness, of which I have had so many proofs, will induce you to overlook the many faults of my performance, I am sure, knowing as you must do how fully my heart is with you in the sacred work you have this day commenced.

It only remains for me to thank you for the courtesies you have extended to me on this occasion; to thank you, as I do most gratefully, for the spontaneous and unsolicited compliment you paid me a year ago at the ballot-box, and to wish that you may be prosperous, happy, and free.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

ON Monday, the 5th. day of November next, on the Premises at Oaks, Orange County, I will sell to the highest bidder the Farm and Residence of the late Doctor O. F. Long. There are about 160 acres of the Land. The House is nearly new, comfortable and commodious, with a good well and garden, and all necessary out-buildings, and all in good order. It is a good location for a Physician or Teacher, and in an excellent neighborhood.

The terms of sale will be one, two and three years credit, with interest after six months, with bond and good security, and title reserved till purchase money is paid. A good title will be made.

THANKS to a friend at Haw River for a club of subscribers to the Daily Sentinel.

WE HAVE been without a mail North of Richmond, for several days. This is owing, we presume, to the destruction of bridges or something of the sort, by the recent unprecedented rains.

THE REMAINS of Dr. Chase, Surgeon of the Freedmen's Bureau, whose death we mentioned on Saturday, were escorted to the Northern depot on yesterday afternoon by a military cortege,—the German Band playing appropriate funereal music. We learn that Dr. C. died of diptheria.

JOHNSTON COUNTY.—Though the election is but three days off there were, up to Saturday, no candidates out for the Legislature in the above County. At least we were so informed by a gentleman from the County.

WARRENTON FEMALE COLLEGE.—We learn, from the Biblical Recorder, that the Rev. J. B. Solomon and Maj. J. H. Foote have purchased the property of the Warrenton Female Seminary, heretofore advertised in these columns, and will open it under encouraging auspices, we hope, very shortly.

HYMENEAL.—The hardness of the times, and the discouraging aspect of national affairs, have not interfered with the market hymeneal. Five newly-married and happy couples in our little City, within two or three weeks, make up quite an encouraging exhibit. Well, after all, there is no solace, in the midst of trouble, actual or impending, like a "gude wife." As our friend V., of Asheville, would say, that is not only so, but all so.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Oct. 13th and 14th.—C. C. Cherry, Edgecombe Co.; Capt. W. M. Stevenson, Greensboro'; Dr. Secon and Mrs. F. E. Mitchener, Smithfield; Judge A. S. THE MYSTERIOUS HOSPITAL PATIENT.—Reference has several times been made to a poor Confederate soldier, who either from the hardships of active service or from injury in battle had lost his mind and his voice, and who at the time of the fall of the Confederacy was left in the hospital at Tallahassee, Florida, unknown to all and of course unable to give an account of himself. In the Tallahassee Sentinel, of the 4th. instant, we find the following in reference to him:

"The unfortunate and unknown hospital patient in this city, of whom much has been said in this paper, has not yet been heard to speak, but is said to be gradually improving; and it is thought that with proper treatment he will eventually regain his mind. We understand that his Honor, Mayor Eppes, has presented him with a new suit of clothes, that he might be decently dressed to be driven out in an ambulance, to enjoy the benefit of the fresh air and the change of scene, which have had a good effect. Hundreds of letters continue to be received making inquiries in relation to this truly unfortunate man, but none, as yet, have been successful in restoring him to his friends. He receives the very best attention at the hands of the hospital managers, who have formed a great attachment for him, on account of his peculiarly pitiable condition."

Our Monday Morning Dispatches.

Important Correspondence—The Case of Jefferson Davis.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13, P. M.

The President has addressed the following letter to the Attorney-General in regard to the trial of Jefferson Davis:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6, 1866.

Sir: A special term of the Circuit Court of the United States was appointed for the first Tuesday of October, 1866, at Richmond, Va., for the trial of Jefferson Davis, on the charge of treason. It now appears that there will be no session of that Court at Richmond during the present month, and doubts are expressed whether the regular term, which by law should commence on the 4th Monday of November next, will be held. In view of this obstruction, and the consequent delay in proceeding with the trial of Jefferson Davis under the prosecution for treason, now pending in that court, and there being, so far as the President is informed, no good reason why the civil courts of the United States are not competent to exercise adequate jurisdiction within the district or circuit in which the State of Virginia is included, I deem it proper to request your opinion as to what further steps, if any, should be taken by the Executive with a view to a speedy public and impartial trial of the accused, according to the Constitution and laws of the United States.

I am, sir, very respectfully yours,
ANDREW JOHNSON.

To Hon. H. J. Stanbery, Attorney-General.

In response to the above the Attorney-General, under date of the 12th inst., states:

"I am clearly of opinion that there is nothing in the present condition of Virginia to prevent the exercise of jurisdiction of civil courts. The actual state of things, and your several proclamations of peace, and of the restoration of civil order, guarantee to the civil authorities, Federal and State, immunity against military control or interference. It seems to me that in this particular there is no necessity for further action on the part of the Executive in the way of proclamation, especially as Congress, at the late session, required the Circuit Court of the United States to be held at Richmond on the first Monday of May, and the fourth Monday of November in each year, and authorized special or adjourned terms of that Court to be ordered by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court at such time and on such notice as he might prescribe with the same power and jurisdiction as at regular terms. This is an explicit recognition by Congress that the state of things in Virginia admits the holding of the United States Courts in that State."

He also states:—"Mr. Davis remains in custody at Fortress Monroe precisely as he was held in January last, when, in answer to a resolution of Congress, you reported communications from the Secretary of War and the Attorney General, showing that he was held to await trial in the civil courts. No action was then taken by Congress, in reference to the place of custody. No demand has since been made for his transfer into civil custody. The District Attorney of the United States for the district of Virginia, where Mr. Davis stands indicted for treason, has been notified that the prisoner would be surrendered to the United States Marshal upon a capias under the indictment, but the District Attorney declines to have the capias issued, because there is no other place within the District where the prisoner could be kept, or where his personal comfort and health could be so well provided for.

No application has been made within my knowledge for the counsel of Mr. Davis, for a transfer of the prisoner to civil custody. Recently, an application was made by his counsel for his transfer from Fortress Mouroe to Fort Lafayette, on the ground, chiefly, of sanitary consideration.

A reference was promptly made to a board of Surgeons, whose report was decidedly adverse to change on the score of health and personal comfort. I am unable to see what further action can be taken on the part of the Executive, to bring the prisoner to trial. Mr. Davis must, for the present, remain where he is until the court, which has jurisdiction to try him, shall be ready to act, or until his custody is demanded under lawful process of the Federal courts."

The Attorney-General suggests that to avoid any misunderstanding on the subject, an order should be issued to the commandant of Fortress Monroe to surrender the prisoner to civil custody, whenever demanded by the United States Marshal upon process from the Federal courts.

Mr. Stanbery encloses a letter of the United States District Attorney for Virginia, who states in answer to the question, why no demand had been made upon the military authorities for the surrender of Jefferson Davis, in order that he might be tried upon the indictment found against him in the United States Circuit Court, at the term held at Norfolk in May last, that two reasons had influenced him in not removing him from their custody. He says: The one relates to the sale keeping, and the other to his own personal comfort and health. I have never had any doubt but that he would be delivered to the United States Marshal of the district whenever he should have demanded him on a capias or any other civil process.

At the banquet in honor of the layers of the cable, on the 4th inst., a message was read from the Queen conferring the honor of knighthood upon Capt. Anderson, Prof. Thompson, and Messrs. Glass and Canning, and a baronetcy upon Messrs. Sampson and Garpe. The Queen says the reason for not conferring distinguishing marks of her favor upon Mr. Fields is an apprehension that it might encroach upon the province of his own government.

Electioneering in various parts of England is reported, looking to the dissolution of Parliament next Spring.

It is stated that the recent wet weather in England has destroyed a very large Wheat crop.

The Windsor arsenal has been levelled to the ground by an explosion of gun cotton. No lives lost.

It is reported that Lord Lyons succeeds Earl Cowley at Paris.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.

Foreign dates to the 5th are received. The London Times compliments Lord Stanly's speech at the cable banquet, which was, it says, designed to satisfy the U. S. that our relations with that country is safe in its hands.

It suggests that his Lordship should take in hand the differences relating to the Alabama claims, which it is persuaded can be set at rest if the necessary temper and judgment can be brought to bear.

How much suffering comes from Diseased Livers?—Let parents read the following, and remember that these Pills are safe for the most delicate ladies:

Wm. Carraway, Esq., Wayne Co., N. C. (Sept. 1, 1862, says: "I have used the Southern Hepatic Pills in my family. My daughter was in very bad health from disorder of the liver for the space of three years, hardly having had a week without suffering. She took the Pills regularly and strictly according to the directions on the wrapper, and her health has been entirely restored by them. I have used them with great benefit among my servants on the plantation, and can recommend them as a safe and useful family medicine."

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.'

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

"We feel justified in recommending Doctor Gardner to those suffering from diseases of the eye and ear."—Richmond Whig.

"We can safely and cordially recommend Dr. Gardner, who will fulfill all he undertakes to perform."—Baltimore Clipper.

The New Orleans True Delta says: "We can safely recommend Dr. Gardner as a successful operator on the eye and ear. He will not undertake to treat a case unless a cure can be effected.

The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

Its Effect is Miraculous!

IT is an entirely new scientific discovery combining many of the most powerful and restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom.

We have such confidence in its merits, and are so sure it will do all we claim for it that we offer if the Sicilian Hair Renewer does not give satisfaction in all cases when used in strict accordance with our instructions.

$1,000 REWARD

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

has proved itself to be the most perfect preparation for the Hair ever offered to the public.

It is a vegetable compound, and contains no injurious properties whatever.

It is not a Dye, it strikes at the roots and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter.

It will restore Gray Hair to its original Color.

It will keep the Hair from falling out.

It cleanses the scalp, and makes the Hair soft, lustrous and silken.

It is a splendid Hair-Dressing.

No person old or young, should fail to use it.

It is recommended and used by the first Medical authority.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Goerick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C.

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

Terms.—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered,

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

JAS. L. HATHAWAY AND UTLEY

(Formerly HATHAWAY & Co., Importers of MOLASSES and SUGAR, Wilmington, N. C.)

Shipping and Commission Merchants,

171 PEARL STREET, NEW YORK.

We solicit consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores, Sheetings, Yarns, Tobacco, and other Southern Products, to the sale of which our prompt personal attention will be given. We will make liberal advances upon receipt of Invoice and Bill of Lading. All Merchandise and Produce shipped to us for sale are insured from point of shipment, with or without advice. Invoices should always accompany each shipment.

Both of us having had over twenty years' experience in business in the South, and our J. L. HATHAWAY three years in New York, we feel confident we can secure full prices for our friends who will favor us with their consignments.

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS.

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

Ready-Made Clothing,

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

NOTIONS,

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market.
